PWD Prepares to Re-open Kittery Beach

News Briefs

LCN Gives Mother's Day Gift to GTMO

In honor of Mother's Day 2004, Local Communications Network, Inc. (LCN) is donating 4,000 calling cards to the American Red Cross to be distributed to the men and women serving in the Armed Forces at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Service members can access the free calling cards using the recently implemented calling card service rolled out by LCN for US troops stationed here in response to the tremendous growth in personnel since the onset of "Operation Enduring Freedom."

Contact your command phone representative to obtain your free calling card. The cards are good through May 15, 2004.

Residents Must Provide Relocation Memo to Hurricane Shelter Coordinator

Hurricane season is drawing near and base residents are reminded that not all housing in GTMO is hurricane resistant.

CSC Robert Thomas, the Hurricane Shelter Coordinator, is requesting residents who reside in non-hurricane resistant housing and do not plan to evacuate to a hurricane shelter, but rather to an alternate venue submit a "Relocation to Hurricane-proof Housing" memo referencing COMNAVBASEGTMOINST 3440.D.

The memo should state that you and your family will be relocating to hurricane-proof housing during hurricane exercises and any actual storms that may occur during the hurricane season. It also needs to be stated that you are responsible for providing hurricane supplies for your family.

You need to list the address you are relocating to and all of your dependents.

The "homeowners" you are residing with must also sign the memo, and state that they are giving permission for you and your family to stay in their residence.

Retain a copy of the memo for your records and provide one to the Operations Officer and Housing Department.

An example of the memo can be found on the NAVSTA Intranet under the Admin Departments instructions link.

Base Badge Reminders

DoDEA, MWR and NEX employees have been assigned the week Apr 26-May 7 to be badged. Badging will occur at McCalla Hanger Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and Tuesday and Friday, 9 a.m. to noon.

If you have any questions, contact MA3 Colby at colbyea@usnbgtnavy.mil

Feliz Cinco de Mayo

What is Cinco de Mayo? It is an important celebration for the people of Mexico and for Mexican-Americans.

On May 5, a poor and untrained army of Mexican citizens won a battle, "The Battle of Puebla in 1862" against a large army of professional French soldiers. Eventually the French army was driven out of the Americas. Since that time no foreign power has invaded the continent of North America.

This Mexican holiday has become very popular in the United States, and many Hispanic communities enjoy it as a cultural and educational experience. Cinco de Mayo, is celebrated with many fiestas. Fiestas include parades, ethnic foods, colorful costumes, dancing, mariachi music, piñata breaking, and other festive activities.

Williams Staying Navy

Personnel Support Detachment's (PSD) DK3 Fredricka Williams (center right) recently extended her naval career by two years surrounded by members of her command at a re-enlistment ceremony held at the Northeast Gate. Williams departs GTMO in September, reporting to Customer Service Desk (CSD) Beaufort, SC.

Residents Enjoy New Ferry Landing Beach

Thanks to the hard-working personnel attached to the Public Works Department (PWD), GTMO families were able to spend a relaxing weekend, enjoying the newly renovated Ferry Landing Beach.

The beach was officially re-opened Sunday by Capt. Les McCoy, Naval Station Commanding Officer, and Cmdr. Eric Denfeld, Public Works Officer.

Located along Fisherman's Point, Ferry Landing Beach has long been a favorite "unofficial" beach of many base residents. It is also a historical landmark, believed to be the location where Christopher Columbus landed briefly in Guantanamo Bay. As the story goes, Columbus found the area unremarkable and left the next day.

Prior to World War II, the area was used as housing and as parking for seaplanes.

"When the old flash evaporators were running, the heated discharge water would exit the plant through the culvert under the Ferry Landing parking lot and out into the bay near the end of the beach," explained Denfeld. "The heated water provided GTMO's version of a hot spring."

Some water still flows through the culvert, but it is only concentrated brine left over from the reverse osmosis process and is no warmer than the surrounding bay, Denfeld added.

After the closing of Kittery Beach, due to Camp Delta construction, base officials developed a plan to "replace" Kittery Beach with another family oriented bathing location.

The plan was put into action and a crew went to work building six new cabanas and a small bath house. The project also included the new steps and cabanas located at Ocean View. Both the bath house and steps are to be completed soon.

In addition, there are several mooring buoys just offshore, so boaters can tie up and swim up to the beach. Construction of another large cabana is also planned.

The area south of the old ferry landing is designated for swimming and snorkeling. The area north and around the point to the new ferry landing is for fishing only. No swimming or snorkeling is allowed. The beach, as well as the ocean view cabanas, are designated no alcohol zones.

Up next, according to Doug Higgs, PWD's facilities manager, residents can expect the re-opening of Kittery Beach. A new road to access the area has been completed and Kvaerner crews are renovating the existing shower facilities and cabanas.

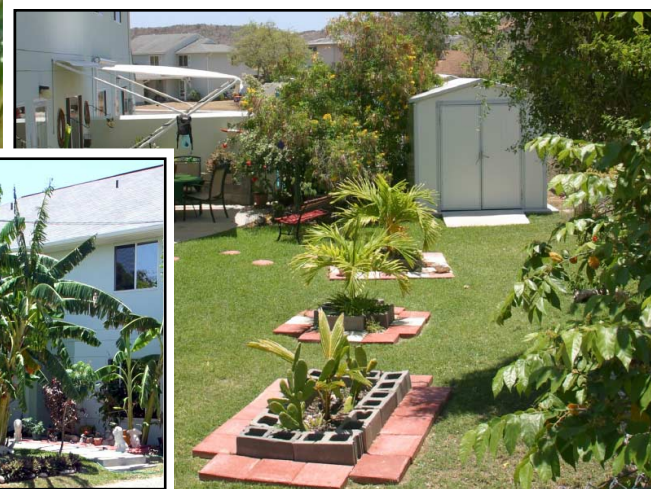

Once the beach re-opens, expect improvements to continue with a volleyball court, and more cabanas and bathroom renovations.

Maybe if Columbus returned today, he would find several remarkable reasons to stick around for a few days!

Mays Family Wins Yard of the Month

HT1(SW) Jeffery Mays (center), surrounded by his spouse, Annarosa, and children, Glenn, Joshua, and Carroll, pose with Capt. Les McCoy, NAVSTA CO and Housing Department's Rudy Sammons and Pam Huff. Photos to the right highlight the Mays' front and back yard.

The Mays family of Villamar 2208-B, Jeffrey, Annarosa, Glenn, Joshua, Carroll and Sampson the dog, is the winner of the Yard of the Month competition.

In recognition of their yard grooming efforts, the family will have a special "Yard of the Month" sign placed in their yard during the month of May, the use of a designated parking space at the Navy Exchange and become a member of the award committee for next month's contest. Congratulations to you and your family on a job well done.

Congratulations also to the two runners-up in the competition - Gloria Martinez, Caravella Point 14A and Eutiquio Neyra, Villamar 2226-B.

May Celebrates Asian Pacific Heritage

For a quarter of a century, May has marked the national observance of Asian Pacific American Heritage Month. This year's Asian Pacific American heritage month theme is "Freedom for All, a Nation We Call Our Own." This annual observance is in recognition of the rich cultural heritage of the Asian Pacific American community that helped shape our great nation. It is also a reminder of how the contributions of all Americans have served to strengthen the fabric of our nation.

Asian Pacific Americans comprise approximately 5 percent of our nation's population or 12.5 million people. A like percentage of Asian Pacific Americans is represented in the military services, including approximately 28,000 in the Navy. They serve proudly defending our freedom and ensuring security for all Americans.

As Master Chief Yeoman Armand Rivo, a sailor serving with SPAWARSYSCEN Norfolk Detachment San Diego, CA, noted, "I volunteered to serve in the armed forces of the United States, and there is no greater satisfaction than doing my part in providing freedom for all Americans. Freedom is definitely a privilege in this country. You can pretty much enjoy life to the fullest."

A Nation We Call Our Own

Former W.T. Sampson Student Accelerates His Life

You've heard the expression, "like father, like son." Well, in the instance of former GTMO resident and W.T. Sampson High School graduate, Matthew Brittle, Jr., it is more a case of like father, like son, like grandfather, like uncle . . .

Matthew joins a long list of relatives who dedicated part of their lives to military service. He graduated Navy Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill., on April 23 as an EMFN and is now stationed at Charleston, SC, attending the Naval Nuclear Power "A" school.

Matthew's father, PCC(SW) Matthew Brittle, enlisted in the Navy in November 1982 and was stationed here from 1991 to 1994 as the Leeward Postal Supervisor. He returned to GTMO in 2000 and currently serves as the Base Postal Officer.

Matthew's great grandfather served in the Army during World War I. His grandfather served in the Army during the Korean War. His great uncle served in the Army during World War II. Another great uncle served in the Navy and died on active duty while stationed in Africa during World War II. And still another great uncle served in the Air Force as a pilot and retired after 20 years of active service.

Both Matthew, and his sister, Heather (a current W.T. Sampson student), have spent most of their childhood years living overseas on military bases and have become accustomed to the overseas military lifestyle.

As they were growing up, their father encouraged the idea of doing activities as a family. He had both children enrolled in Taekwondo by the age of six.

Having studied the martial art of Taekwondo for 18 years, Chief Brittle truly understands the great values that come from participating in such a sport and has been passed on those values to his children who have each earned Black Belts in the sport.

With a background strong in family values, respect, discipline, physical fitness and honesty, Matthew is destined to become a great asset to the U.S. Navy. We wish him much success on his military journey.

Following in military family footsteps, EMFN Matthew Brittle, Jr., joins his father, PCC Matthew Brittle, Sr., in naval service.

Navy College Learning Center

After serving the GTMO community for over seven years, the Navy College Learning Center is closing. A heartfelt thank you to all who have served as facilitators, especially our current facilitators, Julie Rochford and Catherine Blount.

Students need to make other arrangements to prepare for CLEP, DANTES, SAT/ACT, and ASVAB/AFCT. For more information, contact your Navy College director, Susan Wheless at susan.wheless@navy.mil.

Navy College Office

Susan Wheless, director, Navy College-Kings Bay, is going to be in GTMO Tuesday, May 4 until Monday, May 17. Call 3996 to schedule an appointment with her.

Also, your Testing Control Officer, Gina Siefert, is steadily administering CLEP and DANTES exams. Call her at 72102 to schedule a testing date.

Columbia College

Registration is underway for Columbia College's Summer Session! Five classes are running locally to include Human Health, Statistics I, Business Ethics, Judicial Process, and Public Administration and Policy. See the times, locations, instructors and class descriptions in next week's Gazette or contact Ellen Soucy or Tammy Record at 5555.

Additionally, there are over 180 classes to choose from online. Don't wait, as seats are limited. Sign up today! For more information, contact Ellen Soucy or Tammy Record at 5555.

Play Ball!

GTMO boys and girls stepped up to the plate and came out swinging as MWR's Youth Baseball and TeeBall Season kicked off.

Volunteer coaches from the community ensured the ground rules were all about good sportsmanship and having fun.

So, grab an MWR hot dog and a McDonald's apple pie and come out to watch America's favorite pastime!

Fine Arts Exhibition a Masterpiece

On Wednesday, April 21, the residents of Guantanamo Bay were treated to a little piece of culture at the Bayview Restaurant - The Guantanamo Bay Fine Arts Exhibition.

The brainchild of co-coordinators Karen Stinson and Heather Schwartz, the exhibition idea came about last fall when the two friends decided they wanted to have an on-site painting day once a week. To "keep them honest," they knew a goal was in order and discussed having some sort of art show/exhibition in the spring.

Excited about the concept, they contacted Scott Ross, MWR's Ceramics and Pottery Shop Manager, to get guidance on the particulars of how, where and when. Together, the three set out to make the art show something the residents of GTMO would remember for years to come.

The coordinators put out a call for artists in January so local talent would have time to meet the show criteria. All pieces were to be done in fine art media, framed and ready to hang - a challenge by GTMO standards, but necessary to make the exhibition an event of distinction. Twelve local artists answered the call, and 78 pieces of two-dimensional fine art were submitted for show, sale, or auction.

The artwork was on display from April 21 through April 23 at the Bayview. During the opening reception on Wednesday, MWR Director Craig Basel and Club Manager Tim Moore were on hand to ensure the evening's success. From 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., residents were able to view the fine art, enjoy trays of elegant hors d'oeuvres offered by waiters, meet the artists and mingle with friends. There were a variety of items available for sale and other prospective buyers with a bargaining nature took a chance and put a silent bid on their favorite piece, in hopes that they would win the auction at the show's close.

By the exhibition's closing on Friday, over 22 pieces of fine art had been sold or auctioned and more than 1,500 residents took the opportunity to view the show.

The coordinators, managers and participants were all ecstatic about the event's success, and hope it generates local interest in the fine arts.

One of the show's coordinators said it best: "Guantanamo Bay is a great place to find your hidden talents and abilities. It's slower paced. Often you have to make your own fun; or if you want a particular item you have to make it yourself! It's a place to become the person you always wanted to be."

Spouses Seminar? What's that?

The Annual Spouses Seminar is in its fourth year here in GTMO, and this year is going to be even better than the last! The Seminar is a special event to recognize all the spouses of enlisted, officer, civilian and contractor personnel and is designed to help them navigate their way through life associated with the military. This is your opportunity to take some time for yourself, receive valuable information, make some new friends or spend time with those you already know. And, it's free! That's right, the Spouses Seminar Committee and Spouse Employment Assistance Program is picking up the tab!

This year's seminar is a three-day event. The first day begins at 8 a.m. and consists of breakfast, guest speakers, lunch, classes on subjects such as the Leeward Air Terminal, the NEX and Fleet and Family Support Center. There are also informational booths from organizations throughout the base! It's sure to be fun and informative!

The second day is in the evening from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and covers home improvement topics. Who couldn't use a little encouragement on that subject?

The third day begins at 8 a.m. and ends at 1 p.m. This day is all about Y-O-U! We have several demonstrations scheduled from classes offered by MWR through the G.J. Denich base gym, as well as many, many giveaways! That's not all! We have a few surprises planned on this day, too. You'll have to attend to find out what they are!

You'll have three days of celebrating being a spouse in GTMO with no cost to you! Childcare is provided the first day only, May 6. If you plan to attend on May 7 and/or May 8, please make childcare arrangements in advance. The deadline for registration is Friday, April 30. All drop boxes will be collected at close of business on April 30. We don't want you to miss out, so drop off your registration form today either at the NEX or the Fleet and Family Support Center! We look forward to seeing you there!

Navy Exchange News

Our own GTMO Navy Exchange will be opening an ice cream shop in the Subway store! Don Mohlman, NEX store manger, hopes to have it open no later than the end of May.

The Captain's Comments

Please do not assume that the Commanding Officer knows everything that is going on! If you see something that doesn't look quite right, it probably isn't. Please take the time to contact Ombudsmen Julie Barnett and Grace Paquette or drop a comment in the CO's suggestion box.

Speaking of CO's Suggestion Box. . . At a recent meeting, it was brought to light that the CO was not receiving all the comments being submitted to his box. This issue has been addressed and, rest assured, from this point forward, all submissions will be viewed by the CO regardless of content.

Morning & Evening Colors

We would like to get the word out there that morning and evening colors are a time honored tradition here on NAVSTA Guantanamo Bay. When you hear the "Call to Colors", please stop whatever you are doing to show your respect to flag and our nation. Follow these guidelines:

1. Military in uniform should stop, come to attention, face the direction of the flag or music (if the flag is not in view) and salute.
2. Military riding in a vehicle with other military should stop the vehicle and the person in charge should dismount and render salute as stated in number 1. Other occupants should remain seated and stay quiet.
3. All civilians and military NOT in uniform should stop and stand with right hand placed over heart, face the flag or music (if the flag is not in view) and remain quiet.
4. Civilians and military NOT in uniform and driving a vehicle should HALT the vehicle and remain seated and quiet.

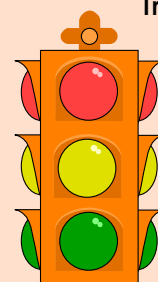

Everyone should wait until the "Carry On" is sounded before resuming course.

Ombudsman FYI

Military Appreciation Month

National Military Appreciation Month (May) includes VE Day, Military Spouse Day, Loyalty Day, Armed Forces Day/Week, National Day of Prayer, and Memorial Day. This very important month, therefore, honors those Americans who have given their lives in defense of our nation's freedom and the men and women now serving in uniform.

A LITTLE GIRLS HEART

"I must be crazy, I'm out of my mind", I say this every week before meeting time. Four will show up and eight will not call; I really don't know why I do this at all. We make plans for meetings. Twice a month for an hour. It takes them an hour to choose grape Kool-Aid! Not worth it I think. Do they care, I ask? Its just what I need, one more thankless task. Then one of them smiles and rolls out the dough. "My mother won't let me bake cookies, you know." We mop up the paint. And I hear from one,

Everyone is welcome!

"Lets do it again. I had so much fun."
The first time away from moms secure embrace
One hugs me and says "I'm so glad I came."
So when I feel low and ask myself "Why?"
I try to picture the look in that eye. The grin on that face, that one homemade card.
A leaders reward - A little girl heart.
